"Real" Communication - what can humanistic education do to promote it?

Claire Gardner, Facoltà di Lingue e Letterature Straniere e SIS Piemonte

Significant learning combines the logical and the intuitive, the intellect and the feelings, the concept and the experience, the idea and the meaning (Rogers, 1983:20)

... personal growth as well as cognitive growth is a responsibility of the school ...
...for learning to be significant, feelings must be recognized and put to use ...
... human beings want to actualize their potential ...
... learning more about oneself is a motivating factor in learning ...
... increasing one's self-esteem enhances learning ... (all from Moskowitz, 1978:18)

Humanistic techniques can be included to supplement, review and introduce your already existing materials (Moskowitz, 1978:23)
